Mission:

The mission of the Department of Accounting, Finance, and Economics is to prepare students for employment or graduate study in accounting, finance, or economics. With its primary focus on teaching, the department provides outstanding instruction at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The educational programs of the Department are delivered in an academic setting that promotes the development of technical skills and an understanding of social, political, and economic forces in the global environment. Faculty members perform research and services consistent with the teaching emphasis of the department and the mission of the College of Business and Public Affairs.

B.S.B.A. Accounting Major (4110):

The accounting major is designed to prepare students for positions in public, private, or governmental accounting and is an excellent pre-law major. The major also provides an educational background for the CIA, CMA, and CPA examinations. The student should be aware that 150 semester hours are required to qualify a person to sit for the CPA examination. Those students should see the Master of Accountancy program in the graduate section of the catalog. In order for the credit to count toward graduation for a major in accounting, a student must earn at least a C in each accounting class completed after Summer 1995.
