Ireland 2013 Travel Study

The University of Tennessee at Martin
Dr. Jeffrey Longacre (English) and Dr. Nathan Howard (History)
May 2013 (Tentative Dates May 6 or 7 through May 17 or 18)

Points of Interest:

♣ Dublin Literary Walking Tour
♣ Kilmainham Gaol
♣ Trinity College (Book of Kells)
♣ James Joyce Museum and Tower
♣ St. Patrick's Cathedral
♣ Blarney Castle
♣ Ring of Kerry
♣ Cliffs of Moher
♣ Aran Islands
♣ Thoor Ballylee (Yeats's Tower)

From its cosmopolitan cities to the quiet countryside, stunning landscapes, and dramatic coastlines, Ireland beckons. We will travel through the reaches of the legendary Emerald Isle as we read literary masterpieces, delve into the past, and walk in the footsteps of those who have shaped Ireland’s history. Join co-leaders Jeffrey Longacre and Nathan Howard on a journey to a place where music is part of daily life and the words of the poets a living tradition.

Cost and Inclusions: TBA

Academic Credit — (3 hours) English 496 (696) "Celtic Twilight: Modern Irish Literature, 1885-1940"

Contact: Group Leaders: Nathan Howard, nhoward@utm.edu or Jeffrey Longacre, jlongac1@utm.edu

“Come away, O human child!”
To the Waters and the wild...” — W. B. Yeats