Spring Break

March 10-22, 2010

Italy has it all: Popes, painters, polenta, paramours, poets, political puerility and potentates. Italy's history, culture and cuisine seduce anyone suffering from exam fatigue or winter doldrums. In Italy we will visit Roman ruins, admire Renaissance art in Florence, explore the canals of Venice and see more beautiful art than you imagined could exist in one country. We will tour San Marino—the third smallest state in Europe (after the Holy See and Monaco) claims to be the world's oldest republic. You can also indulge in the more elementary pleasures of enjoying good food and wine, improving your wardrobe and seeking out “la dolce vita.”

COST: $3375 per person — based on double occupancy
(Single room will be an additional $731.00)
