OPERATING PAPER FOR

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE AT MARTIN GRADUATE PROGRAM

SECTION ONE

Introduction

I. Purpose and Functions of the Graduate Studies Office

A. The Graduate Studies Office is the central agency for organizing and supervising the graduate instructional program of the University and for developing that program toward the highest level of excellence.

B. The Graduate Studies Office cooperates with the Faculty Research Office to mesh graduate instruction and research into mutually supporting programs and to integrate both programs into the total effort of the University.

II. Relation of the Graduate Studies Office to Other Agencies of the University

A. The office serves all Colleges of the University.

1. The Graduate Faculty is organized as a single faculty encompassing Graduate Faculty members from the University.

2. The Graduate Council is established in accordance to the guidelines of the Faculty Senate as an all-University body, with appropriate representation from major academic disciplines offering graduate work.

3. The Dean of Graduate Studies is responsible administratively for graduate instruction and research in the University.

4. The Office of Graduate Studies falls within the administrative jurisdiction of the Academic Vice Chancellor of the University.

B. The Office of Graduate Studies is the central coordinating agency for the graduate program of the University.

1. Because the Graduate Program is essentially a joint effort, there are close working relationships between the Office of Graduate Studies and the departments, faculties, and colleges of the University.

2. The members of the Graduate Faculty are drawn from the faculties of the various academic units of the University.

3. The Graduate Council draws its membership from all sectors of the Graduate Faculty and is set up to assure adequate representation of all academic areas as well as to achieve an all-University point of view.

4. The Dean of Graduate Studies has responsibility for coordinating, encouraging, and stimulating the graduate program in all academic units.

III. Relationship of this Operating Paper to the original Charter of the Graduate Program, the policies and practices subsequently approved by The University of Tennessee at Martin Graduate Council, and the Bylaws of the Faculty Senate.

SECTION TWO

Organization of Graduate Studies

I. Organization for the Formulation of Policy

A. The Graduate Faculty

In terms consistent with UT Martin’s mission, this section defines the graduate faculty categories, describes the criteria for membership in each category, and articulates the process by which individual selection is made. It builds upon and supersedes the criteria established and amended in 1993.

Membership in the graduate faculty is not an automatic consequence of appointment to a faculty position.\(^1\) It requires submission of an application and approval by the department chair, college dean, and the Graduate Council. Membership is based on evidence of scholarly accomplishments beyond those required for undergraduate instruction. "Graduate education inherently implies a greater depth of training, with increased specialization and intensity of instruction. . . . Most important, there is vital concern for the generation of new knowledge, through research, in addition to the transmission of what is already known."\(^2\) Appointment to the graduate faculty demands knowledge of current scholarship in the relevant teaching field. Because continuing professional activity is a distinct part of a faculty member’s work at the university, the criteria stated below must be met to attain and maintain graduate faculty status in one of the four categories.

1. Appointment Categories: Appointment Terms & Rights/Eligibility

a. Full Membership

Full members receive a five (5) year appointment and are eligible for reappointment every five years subject to the criteria specified below (see 2a). They may teach any assigned graduate course, direct theses, serve on thesis committees, and serve on comprehensive examination committees. They are eligible for appointment/election to college graduate level curriculum and degree appeal committees (and university committees consistent with Senate Bylaws).

b. Associate Membership

Associate members receive a three (3) year appointment. Those receiving an initial appointment at the associate level should meet the criteria for full membership by the end of three years. They may apply for one (1) additional three-year appointment under the conditions specified below (see 2b). They may teach graduate courses and serve on thesis and comprehensive examination committees. They are eligible for appointment/election to college graduate level curriculum and degree appeal committees (and university committees consistent with Senate Bylaws). They are not eligible to direct theses until they have served as a committee member on one (1) thesis.

c. Special Membership

Special members receive a three (3) year, renewable appointment. They may teach graduate courses and serve on thesis and comprehensive exam committees as specified on their application. Special members who hold regular faculty appointments are eligible for appointment/election to college graduate level curriculum and degree appeal committees (and university committees consistent with Senate Bylaws).

d. Temporary Membership

Temporary members receive a one (1) semester appointment that can be renewed one time only. They may teach graduate courses as specified on their application.

2. Appointment Criteria

a. Full Membership

Initial Appointment. For an initial appointment, applicants must have regular faculty status and hold the terminal degree in the teaching field. They must also have at least three (3) years full-time teaching experience at the college level in a regionally accredited institution, completed after receipt of the terminal degree. All applicants must provide evidence of ongoing scholarly/creative and professional work in the field of expertise. For the initial appointment, the evidence provided must include the period since completion of the terminal degree.

Renewal. Faculty holding full membership are expected to satisfy credentials that warrant renewal of full membership. If requesting renewal of a previous/current appointment, the evidence of ongoing scholarly/creative and professional work in the field of expertise must be provided for the period since previous appointment. Although research and scholarly productivity may be defined differently in each discipline, the following guidelines will be applied.

(1) The activity involves a studious inquiry or examination.

(2) The activity seeks either to discover and interpret new concepts, theories, laws, facts, relationships, or perceptions OR seeks to advance the application of them.

(3) The results of scholarship (creative endeavor) and other professional activity are in a form accessible to external peer review appropriate to the mode of scholarly/creative production. For example, in the performing arts there may be a provision for formal, public presentation and peer evaluation. In other disciplines there may be a provision for external peer evaluation of products such as archival or published research, presentations before professional societies, licensure and certification, or significant consulting activity that validates the scholarly accomplishment.
Consistent with these guidelines, the applicant must show continuous peer reviewed scholarly/creative activity throughout the last five years and have a minimum of four activities. Activities must be selected from the following categories and are considered as one activity unless otherwise indicated.

(a) Publication of Scholarly Text. Scholarly texts requiring independent review procedures. Must be published as primary or co-authorship. If the publication has not yet appeared in print, the applicant must submit evidence that it is "in press."

(a.1) Initial publication of text as primary author or co-author (equivalent to three activities)

(a.2) Initial publication of text as primary or co-editor.

(a.3) Revision of subsequent editions of text as author or editor.

(b) Publication of Chapter in Scholarly Texts. Chapters in scholarly texts requiring external peer review procedures.

(c) Publication of Article or Essay. Article or essay in an externally peer-reviewed publication at the regional, national or international level.

(d) Scholarly Presentations. Two scholarly works presented at the regional level or one scholarly work at the national or international level (equal to one activity). The scholarly works may include papers, posters, workshops, or other presentations consistent with the current practices of the discipline and must have been subject to external peer review.

(e) Creative/Artistic Presentation or Product Design. An original work for presentation/performance or a product designed and exhibited at the regional level or above. The activity must have been subject to external peer review.

(f) Research/Grants/Other Professional Activities. These must be equivalent in contribution, rigor, and externally peer-reviewed status to the publication or artistic presentation criteria defined above. The burden of evidence rests on the applicant to prove that the activities presented meet the criteria.
b. Associate Membership

Automatic Initial Appointment (Years 1-3 following completion of a terminal degree). Regular faculty who completed a terminal degree within the last three years may receive an automatic initial appointment upon submission of a graduate faculty application and curriculum vita. The automatic initial appointment cannot extend beyond the third year following completion of a terminal degree.

Initial Appointment (Years 4-6 following completion of a terminal degree). Regular faculty who completed a terminal degree within the last 4-6 years may submit a graduate faculty application and curriculum vita requesting associate membership for the time remaining in the six-year period following completion of the degree.

Renewal of Automatic Initial Appointments (Years 4-6 following completion of a terminal degree). Associate members with automatic initial appointments are expected to satisfy credentials that warrant full membership (see 2a above) at the end of their appointment. However, automatic initial associate membership may be renewed one (1) time only for no more than three (3) years. A letter from the department chair must accompany the application; it must address the applicant’s teaching effectiveness at the graduate level and progress toward attaining full membership.

Associate membership cannot extend beyond the sixth year following completion of a terminal degree.

c. Special Membership

Special membership is intended for regular, visiting, and adjunct faculty who have special academic expertise or professional experience and who demonstrate competence in particular course(s) or discipline(s) of instruction but who otherwise do not meet the criteria for full membership. If they lack a terminal degree in the discipline, they must complete the standard form required by SACS to demonstrate equivalent competency and provide appropriate official documentation. A renewal application must also demonstrate currency regarding the special academic expertise or professional experience related to the specified course(s) or discipline(s) they will teach or the committee on which they will serve.

d. Temporary Membership

Faculty who have special academic expertise or professional experience but who otherwise do not meet the criteria for special membership may be granted temporary membership to serve an emergency need. The appropriate SACS form must be completed (with appropriate official documentation) if the applicant lacks a terminal degree in the appropriate discipline.
