UT Martin is one of fewer than 30 institutions nationally offering four-year academic preparation in the area of veterinary health technology. This program provides career opportunities in veterinary practices, animal hospitals, animal research and zoos.

The geosciences major at UT Martin offers a meteorology concentration, the first and only of its kind in Tennessee.

(from top) Veterinary health technology students participate in a lab; Dr. Michael Gibson, professor of geology, shows off part of the university’s fossil collection.
Students in the College of Business and Global Affairs get hands-on, real-world experience in their chosen field of study.

Finance students can participate in the Tennessee Valley Authority Investment Challenge Program, which allows them to manage a real portfolio with a value in excess of $500,000. Students make all management decisions and report back to TVA, gaining real client/manager experience.

In the past year, students in finance, accounting and political science have given presentations in Memphis, Nashville, Chicago and San Juan, Puerto Rico. Students from various areas have also attended professional conferences across the country and participated in travel-study and study abroad programs in England, France, Germany, Japan, Spain and others.

Students can also apply for a spot in the sport business program’s annual Super Bowl trip, where participants work in hospitality to get a behind-the-scenes look at the planning and execution of such a high-profile event.

UT Martin also has a working relationship with the American Security Project, a think-tank founded by Secretary of State John Kerry and former Secretary of Defense Chuck Hagel, which allows qualified students an opportunity to gain real-world internship experience in Washington, D.C.

Community Service

Make a difference.

At UT Martin, community service projects offer many ways for students to learn, grow and give back to the community and beyond. A community garden, recycling efforts, fundraising and awareness for a variety of causes, tutoring K-12 children, working at local animal shelters and organizing food drives are among the projects that engage UT Martin students in the world beyond the classroom.

In the 2015-2016 academic year, UT Martin student organizations reported more than 20,000 community service hours and more than $35,000 in total funds raised.

The 2016 Greekfest Week saw Greek organizations raise approximately $7,000 and prepare 20,000 meals during their annual Service Night program. The meals and funds were split among various charitable causes in Northwest Tennessee.

(clockwise from top left) The Department of Visual and Theatre Arts has hosted the Empty Bowls Soup Supper to benefit local charities for 12 consecutive years; veterinary health technology students host a pet wash day for the community; the UT Martin chapter of the Student Members of the American Chemical Society assists local Boy Scouts during a badge clinic; fraternity members lend a hand during the annual Greek Week Service Night.

Travel Study

Earn academic credit while exploring the world.

In today’s global environment, study abroad can give you an advantage when it comes to future employment or graduate school. UT Martin offers an extensive list of destinations, programs (ranging from 1-2 weeks to an entire semester abroad) and international internships.

Recent international destinations include:
- Australia
- Austria
- Brazil
- Canada
- Czech Republic
- England
- France
- Germany
- Greece
- Iceland
- Ireland
- Italy
- Japan
- Mexico
- Morocco
- New Zealand
- Norway
- Poland
- South Korea
- Spain
- Switzerland
- Taiwan

UT Martin faculty and staff take students on approximately 15 travel-study trips each year.

In 2015-16, more than $54,000 in SGA awards and scholarships helped 119 students pay for travel study.

Programs can be paid for in installments, and professors and staff can help you find additional scholarships. Additional funds helped 57 students with more than $27,000 during the 2015-16 school year.

UT Martin maintains partnerships with 10 universities in Canada, Japan, France, Germany and Spain, among other countries.

The Center for International Education coordinates all travel-study and study-abroad programs for convenient one-stop planning.

In 2015-16, students participated in travel-study opportunities to various countries, including Iceland, France and New Zealand.
Housing and Residential Life

First-year freshman students must live on campus unless commuting from the home of parents or legal guardians within a 50-mile radius. We make sure campus living is a positive experience. UT Martin provides a staff of resident directors and advisers who attend to the needs of student residents, and hall associations plan and organize intramural sports, social activities, lectures, discussions, and hall and campus competitions.

To Apply for Housing

Apply online at utm.edu/housing OR complete and return an application.

- A $150 deposit is required with all housing applications. (You must apply for admission to the university first.)
- The housing deposit is refundable up to June 1.

Our Living Learning Communities help you make a fast and easy transition to UT Martin. A Living Learning Community is a cohort of students from the same academic major who live together in a residential suite on campus. Research shows that students in Living Learning Communities have higher grade point averages and increased interaction with faculty.

Benefits of Living Learning Communities:
- Develop an academic and social support system
- Collaborate with others on campus (students and faculty may seem more approachable)
- Live with others who share your academic interests
- Create opportunities to extend learning outside the classroom through study groups, informal conversations and programming activities
- Develop a student leadership and engagement transcript
Students
More than 6,800 students represent 42 states and 34 countries. Hundreds of students participate annually in internship, clinical and educational placements in business, hospital, school, government and non-profit settings.

Faculty
73% of faculty hold the highest degree in their field.

Student Recreation Center
The Student Recreation Center includes four basketball courts that convert into volleyball and badminton courts, a walking/jogging balcony, three racquetball courts, a fitness center with state-of-the-art equipment, classroom, multipurpose and aerobics room, locker rooms, equipment checkout space and office suite. Two lobbies provide additional recreational opportunities to play pool, ping pong, foosball and much more.

Elam Center
This facility includes seven basketball courts with volleyball option, six racquetball courts, Olympic-sized indoor pool, equipment checkout area, weight room, indoor walking/jogging balcony and an aerobics room. Skyhawk Arena, which seats approximately 5,000 fans, is home to Skyhawk basketball and many special events.

Hardy M. Graham Stadium
The newly renovated football home of the Skyhawks features about 7,500 seats, modern lighting, a field-turf playing surface and the Bob Carroll Football Building.

Fitness Trail
The 1.5-mile fitness trail is convenient to the residence halls and circles Pacer Pond, a favorite spot for relaxing and outdoor recreation.

Intramural Fields and Courts
Students have access to lighted intramural fields for football and softball, two soccer fields, a 400-meter track and the Skyhawk Tennis Complex featuring 16 lighted tennis courts.

Skyhawk Park
The park includes the Bettye Giles Field (softball) and Skyhawk Baseball Field. Skyhawk Soccer Field is located adjacent to Skyhawk Park.

Computer Labs
State-of-the-art general student-access labs are available in the Paul Meek Library and the Boling University Center. Current software and hardware for PC and Macintosh computers are available. Wireless Internet is available across campus. Academic departments have specialized computer labs as well.

Paul Meek Library
The Paul Meek Library is open 92 hours a week and features resources and services that are available regardless of your location. A 24-hour computer lab is also located right inside the front door (next to Captain’s Coffee).

The Steven E. Rogers Media Center offers print and digital resources and a wide variety of educational supplies for use in your classes. Unique items are featured in the J. Houston Gordon Museum, replica offices of Tennessee Governor Ned R. McWherter and Congressman Ed Jones, and the regional history and primary-research collection of books, including manuscripts (like Davy Crockett’s Almanack). Specialized help is available on-site or online (via reference chat) anytime during operational hours.

University Center
The Boling University Center includes a computer lab, excellent dining facilities (including Chick-fil-A, Mein Bowl, Southern Tsunami Sushi and Sandella’s Flatbread Cafe), The Hangar coffee shop, expanded Barnes & Noble Bookstore and the 500-seat Watkins Auditorium, home to free movies and popcorn hosted by the Student Activities Council.

The University of Tennessee at Martin is a public university located in the southwestern part of Tennessee, approximately 60 miles northeast of Memphis, Tennessee. It is the 11th oldest public university in the United States and is part of the Tennessee Board of Regents system.

The city was founded in 1873 and named in honor of Captain William Martin, a prosperous landowner who settled in the area in 1838.

Today, Martin features a revitalized historic downtown business district that includes a coffee shop, restaurants, shopping and nightlife. This traditional college-town setting and related amenities offer a perfect environment for students who attend the University of Tennessee at Martin.
