Sky’s the limit
The Princeton Review has named UT Martin one of the “Best in the Southeast” for 13 consecutive years.

UT Martin is among the safest four-year public college campuses in Tennessee.

U.S. News & World Report ranked UT Martin #19 among public schools in the South.
More than 6,800 students represent 42 states and 34 countries.

UT Martin offers 17 undergraduate degrees with more than 100 specialized concentrations and five graduate degrees with 17 specialized concentrations.

UT Martin is rated first in the state among public universities for student satisfaction.

Living Learning Communities in Cooper Hall

Our Living Learning Communities help you make a fast and easy transition to UT Martin. A Living Learning Community is a cohort of students from the same academic major who live together in a residential suite on campus. Research shows that students in Living Learning Communities have higher grade point averages and increased interaction with faculty.

Benefits of Living Learning Communities:
- Develop an academic and social support system
- Collaborate with others on campus (students and faculty may seem more approachable)
- Live with others who share your academic interests
- Create opportunities to extend learning outside the classroom through study groups, informal conversations and programming activities
- Develop a student leadership and engagement transcript
