

Program Participants

Bill Brown, workshop leader, is a writer and teacher. After twenty years as director of the writing program at Hume-Fogg Academic High School in Nashville, Brown is an instructor in the Peabody College of Vanderbilt University. Brown is a frequent workshop leader for the Tennessee Writers Alliance and in adjoining states. He lives and writes in Robertson County, Tennessee.

Bill Ahlschwede, workshop coordinator, is a Director of the Tennessee Writers Alliance, and Instructor of first-year Composition at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

About the Tennessee Writers Alliance

The Tennessee Writers Alliance is a state-wide network of writers and those interested in writing. The Alliance publishes four newsletters each year, sponsors writing workshops, sponsors writing contests, and plays a role in the Southern Festival of Books each fall in Nashville. Through the newsletters, the Alliance informs members of calls for manuscripts, writing contests, and writing activities. Membership information will be available at the workshop.

Membership, programs, and activities of the Tennessee Writers Alliance are open to all, regardless of race, color, national origin, disability, age, religion, and sex.
