

Workshops for Teachers

August 11, 2001

Connecting Reading and Writing-a workshop for English and language arts teachers, K-12 from the West Tennessee Writing Project

Saturday, August 11, 2001, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The University of Tennessee Agricultural Research, Extension, and Public Service Center, 605 Airways Boulevard, Jackson, Tennessee

9:00-9:30 Registration coffee, rolls, book display and sales with LexAmi

9:30-10:45 Opening Session

11:00-12:15 Concurrent sessions with Teacher Consultants of WTWP

12: 30-1:15 Box lunches from Heavenly Ham, LexAmi book display and sales, mid-day comments and reflections

1:30-2:45 Concurrent sessions with Teacher Consultants of WTWP

2:50-3:00 Closing, certificates of participation, evaluation

Sessions include:

"Literate Life Histories: Our Stories, Our Students' Stories," Margrethe Ahlschwede, Director, West Tennessee Writing Project, The University of Tennessee at Martin

"Alphabet Zoos and Barnyard Baseball: Writing Children's Literature To Learn about Audience," Missy Owen, Bolton High School, 12th composition and AP literature, 10th-12th creative writing

"Making Reading a Social Act: Programs for All Ages at Fulton Public Library," Tim Hacker, UT Martin English instructor, and Michelle Greer and Penny Smith from The Friends of the Library's Reader Discussion Group, Fulton, Kentucky

"Reading and Writing off The Diary of Anne Frank," Mary Perry, Martin Middle School, 8th grade reading and language arts

"Squeezing it all in: Journals in Science, Stories in Math, Writing in Social Studies," Kathy Johnson, Brownsville Road Elementary, Memphis City Schools, 3rd grade

"Reading Anticipation Guides," Paula Wakefield, Gallatin High School, 11th English

"Writing Clubs in School, after School, and out of School," Debbie Criswell, special education, Dyersburg High School; Sheryl Alford, Dresden Middle School media specialist; Betty Hicks, Finley School, 5th grade

"Rubrics: Where Should We Look and What Should We Look for?" Beth Halbert, Mt. Juliet High School, 11th English

"Author's Day: A Celebration of School and Community Writers," Donna Dabbs, Halls Elementary, 1st grade

Workshop hospitality chair: Kay Griffin, 7th grade language arts, Jackson Middle School

Optional day of inservice, points toward recertification, professional license renewal:

This workshop has been approved by supervisors of instruction as an optional day of inservice, or a program of staff development for professional license renewal in these school districts: Benton County; Bradford Special; Carroll Academy; Crockett County; Decatur County; Dyer County; Fayette County; Hardeman County; Haywood County; Henry County; Hollow Rock-Bruceton Special; Humboldt City; Huntingdon Special; Lake County; Lauderdale; McKenzie Special; Memphis City; Obion County; South Carroll County Special; Tipton County; Trenton Special; Union City; Weakley County; West Carroll Special.

Registration:

Register by August 6. Registration is $25. Make checks payable to UTM and send to: Office of Extended Campus and Continuing Education, 110 Gooch Hall, The University of Tennessee at Martin, Martin, TN 38238. Or e-mail registration to: <ecce@utm.edu>

back to top...

Back to WTWP Home...

This project is funded by:

The National Writing Project

The University of Tennessee Martin

last updated 6/22/99