Mr. Andrew and Dr. Ann* visited K-Kids and the after school group at Martin Elementary on Oct. 6, and presented a program on the human brain, how to protect it from injury and the effects of alcohol and drugs on the brain. That's Andrew setting up a display of sheep brains to let the students have "hands on" in examining the various parts of the brain and their function. The most common question was "Where do you get these?" Answer: "From the internet!" One student noted that this was one of the coolest things that she had ever done! Guests included M.E. Bell and Jim Clark. *Gathers

Did you know that the Kiwanis Club of Martin, Tennessee bylaws indicates that the club has the following standing committees and functions?

- 1. Membership and Public Relations: Purpose: covers growth, retention, education, and public relations; Duties: assists with recruitment of new members, induction, and retention and markets club activities.
- 2. Community and Youth Services: Purpose: focus on youth and service projects in the community; Duties: oversight of all sponsored and youth programs.
- 3. Fund-raising committee: Purpose: oversee preparations for BBQ lunch, Pancake Breakfast and any other fund-raising activities; Duties: assist with logistics for fund-raising projects
- 4. Program: Purpose: oversee weekly programs for club; Duties: plan programs for weekly meetings.

In board meetings we have had a sort of ad-hoc committee looking at various membership issues (recall Danelle's open discussion at the Aug. 31, meeting), and we have endeavored to do better on public relations in terms of promoting our own image. The program committee is active under David Spencer's leadership although there are some open slots. (Last week's Bulletin) Our club needs to create an I-plan for the next 5 years, any implementation of that plan will most likely need all these to be functional.
