Kiwanis members who are Martin Citizens Police Academy alumni welcome Asst. Police Chief Phillip Fuqua to last week's meeting.

At last week's meeting, Assistant Police Chief Phillip Fuqua described the Martin Citizens Police Academy and invited interested community members to apply for one of the four remaining spots in the upcoming academy. The 31st Citizens Police Academy will be held on Thursday evenings from 6 – 9 p.m. from March 5 through May 7, and the 30 participants, according to Assistant Chief Fuqua, will gain a good understanding of the department's work.

Some of the activities will include meeting Chief Don Teal and many in the Martin Police Department, learning facts about those driving while intoxicated (DUIs), and listening to several of the School Resource Officers (SROs) talk about their work and responsibilities. Participants will also learn about problems with drugs, observe the two dogs in the canine unit in action, learn how investigations are handled, and gain knowledge of how the communications officer and seven dispatchers respond to all 911, fire, Martin Police Department, and Tennessee Bureau of Investigation calls.

Participants will also learn about the Special Response Team (SRT) and the use of special weapons and have the opportunity to experience the firing range and tour the detention center and the Weakley County Jail and experience a highlight of the Academy, a four-hour ride-around with a police officer.

From the Kiwanis archives dated Wednesday, January 21, 1970: Really stacked — this wide-eyed little boy eagerly awaits to dive into his pancakes. The Pancake Day was sponsored by the Circle K and held at the Martin Elementary School.

Pancakes and crocuses — both signs of February and spring!
