Kiwanis News

At the July 7 meeting of Kiwanis, UT Martin Chancellor Keith Carver (left) updated the group about positive fall enrollment projections, some exciting new graduate programs, and continued precautions at the university for keeping those on campus and in the surrounding community as safe and healthy as possible. Pictured with him are Dr. Annie Jones (center), Kiwanis president, and April Alcazar, a visiting Fulbright scholar from the Philippines who has spent the last three months at UT Martin. Other guests at last week’s meeting included two Rotarians, Drs. Harriette Spiegel, Lecturer in Educational Studies and Mark McCloud, UTMs Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer.

Mark your calendar for Sept. 11: The traditional Soybean Festival 5k/Fun Run has morphed into the Bowtie 5k and Fun Run and will coincide with UTM’s Family Weekend on Sept. 11. Sponsors are Kiwanis, the TN Soybean Festival, and UTM’s family weekend. Events will begin at 7:30 a.m. at the Elam Center with the 1k Fun Run.

Boy Scouts are still active! Above are Jacob Foltz (left) and Nicholas Sterrett (right) along with Big Cypress Tree Ranger Michael Beasley, who assisted them as they cleared the area for a firepit on July 15. Jacob’s father Bryan was there to assist the young men in starting Jacob’s Eagle Scout project. Later this month, Jacob plans to return to the park to build the firepit on the leveled bed. Big Cypress Tree State Park is named after a large bald cypress tree that once stood on the park grounds. The tree was approximately 1,350 years old when it was killed by lightning in 1976.
