The Martin Pubic Library is one of six sites in Tennessee chosen to host this Smithsonian exhibition. Individuals are encouraged to volunteer to act as docents. The Martin Kiwanis Club has volunteered to serve as docents for October 25th as a Kiwanis One Day Project. Individuals are asked to volunteer for one hour or more during that day. This will replace the general meeting that week. Sign-up sheets will be available at each weekly meeting or you may volunteer via email. We need at least one volunteer each hour from 9 to 5 with some folks agreeing to fill in "as needed." Members are also encouraged to serve on other days.

New Kiwanis Member! We are all smiles that Linda Luther has joined the Martin Kiwanis Club. At the induction ceremony on Sept. 16, Linda was introduced by her sponsors Anna and Jim, who also gave a shout out to Frank Black because he first invited Linda to a Kiwanis meeting. Linda is retired from the UT Martin Department of Nursing and embodies the Kiwanis spirit of "serving the children of the world, one child and one community at a time." In particular, she starred in a story hour at the Martin Public Library as a nurse after children heard the story of Nurse Nancy (a Little Golden Book title). Linda let children hear their heartbeats using a stethoscope.

Other activities (possible): Danelle is working on plans for Kiwanis volunteers to partner with the UTM Equestrian Team and Martin Public Library for an October book walk with a special book about horses, several crafts, and the opportunity to pet a horse. Possibly Oct 14 (Saturday)

Sixteen Kiwanis members attended the Crossroads Luncheon Sept. 6.
