Dr. Ann Gathers, associate professor of biology, and student Aleya Brent, a psychology and biological sciences major, taught third through fifth graders at Martin Elementary School about the science of smell. The presentation took place during a recent Kiwanis K-kids club meeting. Dr. Jim Clark, Anna Clark and Sara Sieber, Kiwanis members and retired UT Martin faculty and staff, assisted with the presentation. Presenters used visual demonstrations of diffusion to teach children the fundamentals of smell. Children tested their sense of smell in a game requiring them to identify common household odors and played a “Who Nose?” trivia game. (reprinted from the UT Martin Addenda)

Christmas parade applications and waiver of liability forms are available at martinkiwansclub.org and the Martin Kiwanis Club Facebook page.
