At September’s Board Meeting: in response to support from the Martin Public Library Foundation, the board elected to support the purchase of a puppet theatre and tree by earmarking the (almost) weekly speakers’ donation to that end.

Other action included the specifying of a K-family wide activity for the local one-day event, namely a book walk at the Martin Recreation Complex. Details of the implementation of that event will be forthcoming.

The date and theme for the Christmas parade was set: Dec 3 (rain date Dec. 4) with theme: “Winter Nights — Christmas Lights.”

At last week’s meeting, Charley Deal discussed the benefits of the newly-formed Martin chapter of the West Tennessee Healthcare Foundation -- a community foundation that serves as an umbrella organization for a variety of 501(c)(3) organizations. The foundation serves as a conduit through which charitable donations can be made. It provides accounting and tax preparation benefits and simplifies the day-to-day operations of such organizations.

From donor advised funds to estate planning to endowment management, it also assists donors in meeting their charitable goals in the areas in which they are most passionate. More than 500 community funds with a wide range of missions from the arts to education to providing health care for those unable to afford it are supported by the foundation.
