Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Analytical Chemistry

The Department of Chemistry & Physics at The University of Tennessee at Martin invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in analytical chemistry beginning January 1 or August 1, 2020 (negotiable). The ACS certified department employs 13 full-time faculty and is poised to move into a new 120,000 sq. ft. Engineering & Science building in fall semester, 2022.

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in chemistry by start date, a well-versed background in a variety of modern chemical instrumentation techniques, and will be expected to teach lecture and laboratory courses in both general and analytical chemistry. Other responsibilities include mentoring students in undergraduate research, developing laboratory exercises to enhance student learning, and advising chemistry majors.

The position requires a strong commitment to teaching, an excellent background in chemistry, and outstanding English communication skills.

To apply,

Submit a letter of application, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, proposed research including a description of how undergraduates will be involved, contact information for three references at least one of whom can assess the applicant’s teaching abilities, and unofficial transcripts of all academic work to UTM Faculty Employment Opportunities @ http://www.utm.edu/departments/personnel/fac_emp.php.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by 09-27-2019 will receive full consideration. Applications will be considered incomplete until all materials are received.

A standard background check report will be conducted before a candidate is hired as defined in the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

The University of Tennessee at Martin is an equal employment opportunity institution and does not discriminate based upon race, color, or national origin. The University's Office of Equity and Diversity has adopted a policy and procedures to provide students and employees, who feel that they have experienced discrimination but are uncertain as to whether a complaint is justified or whether they wish to initiate a formal complaint, the opportunity to discuss their concerns confidentially and informally with the Equity and Diversity Officer/Title VI Coordinator for prompt and equitable resolution of discrimination complaints.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee at Martin affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 544 University Street, #303, Martin, TN 38238, telephone 731-881-3505. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.
