TENURE-TRACK ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY

The Department of Chemistry & Physics at The University of Tennessee at Martin invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in physical chemistry beginning August 1, 2019. The ACS certified department employs 16 full-time faculty and is poised to move into a new Science & Engineering facility in Fall 2022.

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Chemistry and will be expected to teach lecture and laboratory courses in both general and physical chemistry. Other responsibilities include mentoring students in undergraduate research, developing laboratory exercises to enhance student learning, and advising chemistry majors.

The position requires a strong commitment to teaching, an excellent background in chemistry, and outstanding English communication skills. Preference may be given to applicants who have diverse experience with chemical instrumentation and experience in computational chemistry.

To apply,

(i) submit a letter of application, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, proposed research, and transcripts of all academic work to UTM Faculty Employment Opportunities @ http://www.utm.edu/departments/personnel/fac_emp.php;

(ii) arrange three letters of recommendation to be sent directly to lferrell@utm.edu. Applications will be considered incomplete until all materials are received. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

A standard background check report will be conducted before a candidate is hired as defined in the Fair Credit Reporting Act.
